Joel on Psychiatry

"No one need engage in psychological means to change their nature or to repress their evil instincts or their evil thoughts. As a matter of fact, these never succeed.

You must always remember that our greatest psychologists (when I say greatest, I mean greatest in name psychologists) have openly acknowledged that they have never witnessed a healing through psychology.

And only last week, at meeting of psychiatrists, they admitted to never having had a healing through psychiatry. So there is no use applying psychological or psychiatric ideas in your life, since at least up until this present moment, there is no principle that has been discovered that could help.

Now, incidentally, at our conference last year, five of Europe's greatest psychiatrists attended. The object of the conference was to discover if spiritual power could be exerted in human affairs. These five great psychiatrists came because they had not found any human way, even in psychiatry, to meet the problems of human affairs.

Only a few years ago, we were sent for by the head of a mental institute (who is one of the big name psychiatrists of the U.S.) who said that he has never yet witnessed a healing through psychiatry and is now investigating the subject of spiritual healing and wanted to spend an evening with us to talk about it.

In a lecture trip last year in Indianapolis, another psychiatrist attended the lecture--one connected with a mental institute there--and he came up to me afterwards to say that in ten years at the institute, he had never witnessed a healing through medical means, and he said that he was searching for spiritual help.

And next week, it will be my great pleasure to be at one of the largest mental institutes in this state, where I have been invited because there are 30 of the Infinite Way students, and they have shown so much healing and harmony that some of their families have been brought into the study of the Infinite Way. And the head of the education bureau has written me that his entire life has changed, and so I have been invited there.

Now I have had experience in mental institutes with mental patients and I've had experience in prisons. And I speak to you from 30 years of experience. And I speak to you if any of your friends or relatives are in sin, don't try to stop it or correct it. But see if you cannot awaken in them a desire to know God and that is all that is necessary."
